IT PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT
through algorithmic intelligence

THE IMPORTANCE OF CHOOSING THE RIGHT METRICS

Selecting the correct metrics by which to manage functional and organizational behaviour is a very complex and difficult process. Most organizations struggle with too many metrics, hence their performance management processes and effectiveness of their performance management process is not providing business value.

WHO IS indiK™ FOR ?

Built for organizations looking to transform their IT and cybersecurity performance management processes to include factual data. Executives looking to increase the level of organizational performance, as well as those looking for continuous improvement opportunities should consider indiK™.
